GUIDELINES

- All children are entitled to access to the National Curriculum for History.
- Planning is in line with National Curriculum requirements for KS1 and KS2 curriculum and the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS). The new National Curriculum sets out the coverage of the History Curriculum.
- Resources for each unit are stored in the relevant year group or Resource cupboard and children are taught to handle artefacts with respect.

KEY SKILLS

- To sequence periods and key events in relation to other units taught in previous year groups in order to develop a sense of chronology
- Children need to be introduced to historical vocabulary, and have access to a range of sources of information both primary and secondary to support this
- Children need to develop an understanding that the past can be interpreted in different ways, the reasons for this sense of caution, and possibilities of bias in historical interpretations
- Children need to be taught the characteristic features of particular periods and compare these with their own
- Children are encouraged to reflect on their observations and their knowledge and understanding of the past
